In Memoriam: Dr. John Walden

Dr. John Walden, a member of the Family and Community Health faculty in the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, died Thursday, Jan. 23. It is with great sadness that I write to inform the Marshall community of the sudden passing of Dr. John Walden.

“This unexpected loss leaves a painful void for all of us in the school, and especially in Family Medicine,” said Dr. Stephen M. Petrany, professor and chair of the Department of Family and Community Health. “He was a great mentor and friend to so many of us, and I will personally greatly miss his continuing reliable counsel, support and friendship.

“John was a third generation family physician from Lincoln County who followed in the family tradition to serve the people of Hamlin, West Virginia, as a primary care doctor. Guided by his passion to help the underserved, John’s professional journey took him to some of the most remote parts of the world where he applied his considerable clinical skills in the care of international communities.

“Anyone who knew Dr. Walden will attest to his inimitable personality and the extraordinary life that grew out of his passion and commitment to the medical school, the state of West Virginia and global health. John was a true Renaissance man in addition to a very accomplished physician and teacher who served the Department of Family and Community Health through 4 decades in various leadership capacities, culminating in his work as chair of the department from 2008-2013.

“John delighted in observing the strange quirks of life, but anyone who knew him recognized that nothing delighted him more than his children and grandchildren.

“John was a visionary, an adventurer an intellectual, and a pragmatist who has left an indelible mark on the Department of Family and Community Health and the entire medical school. I will share how his life will be celebrated once I know the details. He will be greatly missed but certainly never forgotten.”

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, Feb. 1, at Handley Funeral Home, 7350 Lynn Avenue, Hamlin, West Virginia. Visitation will take place from 10 to 11 a.m., the service at 11 a.m. and burial to follow thereafter at Goldbury Cemetery. (Please note: There is another funeral home in West Hamlin with a similar name. Dr. Walden's services will be held in Hamlin, not West Hamlin.)

MU Alert test to take place Jan. 30

SIGN UP BEFORE THE CAMPUS-WIDE TEST • Thursday, January 30, 2020

MU ALERT

Used solely for the purpose of alerting the Marshall University community in an emergency.

- Situations threatening the safety and security of our campuses
- Campus closings due to emergency situations including inclement weather

How to Sign Up

1. Go to myMU and log in
2. Click the  on the QuickLink menu
3. Enter/Update your contact information
4. Click 'Save' to finish registration

www.marshall.edu/emergency/mualert

A test of the MU Alert emergency messaging system will be conducted Thursday, Jan. 30. Marshall community members who are subscribed to MU Alert are asked to be sure that they have received the message that morning. If a message has not been received by noon, a subscriber should review and update his or her contact information in the myMU/MU Alert Web interface. If this contact information was already correct, but a message was still not received, then an e-mail should be sent to mualert@marshall.edu with details on which contact method (text, e-mail, voice) did not work as expected.

The most recent test of the system occurred Oct. 15, 2019.

Members of the immediate Marshall community (students, faculty and staff) who would like to subscribe or update their information for this test are asked to visit www.marshall.edu/MyMU, log in, click on the MU Alert triangle and complete their subscription or update by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 29.

The MU Alert system, which is operated by Marshall and delivered through the Blackboard Connect™ service, allows Marshall students, faculty and staff to provide several methods for the university to use when making emergency contacts. Most common are text messages, cell phone calls and e-mail.

MU Alert is used solely for the purpose of alerting the Marshall University community in an emergency. Emergency notifications are limited to those concerning urgent health and safety concerns for Marshall University students, faculty or staff; or disruption of normal university functions due to weather, crime or other concerns. Alerts are issued to increase awareness about a criminal incident to promote safety and aid in the prevention of similar crimes.

Marshall University officials determine if and when alerts related to criminal incidents are issued based on a number of factors, including when information becomes known. Alerts are sent when a serious crime occurs that demonstrates an ongoing threat to the campus community. The Marshall University Police Department reviews the known details of each reported criminal incident on a case-by-case basis with the safety of the campus community in mind.

The following criteria are considered before issuing an MUAAlert regarding a criminal incident:

- Did a crime occur?
- Did the crime occur on campus property or on other Clery reportable property? (More information about Clery reporting geographical areas is available in the university's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report.)
- Is the crime a Clery reportable crime? (More information about Clery reporting is available in the university's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report.)
- Is there a serious or continuing threat to the campus community?

More information about the MU Alert system is available at www.marshall.edu/emergency/mualert.

Reframing Appalachia: Images, stories and dreams for the future

Marshall University Drinko Library Exhibition
January 13 - May 11, 2020

Opening celebration: 5 p.m., Thursday, January 30
Drinko Library Atrium

Appalachia is often defined by those outside of the region, those who have no stake, heart or connection. These out-of-touch and misinformed definitions are riddled with stereotypes and generalizations. One goal of this exhibition is to fill the walls with original Appalachian artwork that reflects local artists' lives as they define it.

Marshall faculty are invited to learn about reducing the cost of textbooks for their students at an Open Textbook Network Faculty Workshop featuring a presenter from the Open Textbook Network (OTN) Friday, Jan. 31, from 12:30 – 3:30 p.m. in Drinko Library 349. Lunch and refreshments will be provided.

The workshop is sponsored by Marshall Libraries and Online Learning and the Center for Teaching and Learning. Registration is open until Jan. 31. Please use the following link to reserve your spot.

Dr. Joe Nowakowski, economics professor at Muskingum University, will present the faculty workshop and introduce attendees to open textbooks and the benefits they can bring to student learning, faculty pedagogical practice and college affordability.

Participating faculty will be invited to engage with an open textbook in their discipline and have the opportunity to write a brief review. Reviewers will be compensated with a $250 stipend. Committing to adopt an open textbook is not required, but textbook reviewers must review an open textbook in applicable subject areas that could potentially be adopted for use in class.

For additional information please contact Jingping Zhang at zhangj@marshall.edu or Larry Sheret at sheret@marshall.edu.
